How we're different Why it matters

Over 20 years of innovation in the industry have placed NDC in a unique leadership role as the leading experts in electronic data conversion, a trusted partner of choice for leading law firms, solution providers and corporations alike.

Industry Leading Capabilities

As an industry pioneer, NDC has developed unique, time tested tools and methodologies to facilitate access to legacy data streams. We have led many technology innovations, such as non-native tape restoration and massively scalable email processing, that clearly distinguish us from the pack. Combined with state-of-the-art facilities and depth of experience to match, we are uniquely positioned to meet the requirements of our most demanding clients.

Our capabilities scale to the largest tape restoration and email processing challenges and assure timely and cost-effective responses to litigation or compliance demands.

Track Record Counts

The numbers speak for themselves — over 42,000 successful projects, 5,000 clients, hundreds of thousands of tapes processed, tens of billions of emails — and a reputation to match. Simply put, no one delivers the quality, reliability and timeliness that have become our hallmarks.

Our client list includes leading solutions providers and top-tier corporations.
